SUBJECT : Transmittal of Working Paper

1. Transmitted herewith is a CIA working paper summarizing the guided missile portions of the recently completed Coordinated Intelligence Assumptions for NESC Project, 1959. The paper shows the estimated total costs over the next four years of the missile program implied by the Assumptions, as well as the detailed costs and production scheduling of each individual missile type.

2. Calculations of this type were taken into account during preparation of the Assumptions, but because of the short deadline they were not fully summarized and reproduced prior to transmittal of the Assumptions to the NESC. They are being circulated to you now for information and to complete your records on this project.
